

MEDIA RELEASE – For immediate release

All Yours

Thala recently announced a 'Total Exclusivity' option, allowing select guests or a larger group complete freedom and privacy on the entire 145 acre peninsular jutting out into the Pacific Ocean. Thala Beach Lodge, untouched by tourism, is now available for exclusive use.

Total Exclusivity includes blanket confidentiality at all times and is recommended for high profile travellers, exclusive weddings and events, on location shoots, product launches, or discreet corporate meetings and think tanks. Thala has already created an impression on celebrity travellers, performers, CEOs and heads of government from around the world.

The resort is surrounded by water on three sides and access is from the western boundary through an extensive coconut plantation. The access road and surrounding land is privately owned and fully securable to allow for an uninterrupted experience free of the intrusion of civilisation, but only 40 minutes from an international airport.

Events at Thala are arranged anywhere from the beach to the hilltops above the sea to the open space at Ospreys Restaurant. Guests can stay in a total of 84 private, five star timber bungalows on top of the headland in the tree canopy, with uninterrupted forest views for over 110 kilometres and strictly private beaches.

Thala's highly regarded cuisine is created by master chefs who have catered to the unconventional requests of guests for many types of events and incorporate a wide range of imaginative fresh local ingredients in their menus.

The specialised Evolution beauty and wellness studio is also a welcome extra to any event and has an extensive range of high quality treatments and massage options at various locations around the resort.

Located just outside Port Douglas, Australia, the advanced Eco Accredited, five-star rated Thala Beach Lodge offers absolute exclusivity for sole use for those occasions when the need for privacy and security is paramount.
